Here's How The Plan Works

Ameera (20) is a full-time student who works part-time at a coffee shop to help pay for expenses at home. Since her mother died of breast cancer, it's only been her and her father. Ameera understands the importance of protecting her family's finances from cancer treatment after witnessing her mother's experience with it. She wouldn't want their savings to be used up.

1 Ameera prefers to conduct her own research at her leisure. As FWD Big 3 Critical Illness is an online plan, she can do so and participate whenever she's ready. She needs to only answer a few health questions instead of taking time off for a medical examination.

2 As a part-time barista, Ameera's income is limited. Luckily, FWD Big 3 Critical Illness only costs her RM12.85/month for a payout of RM100,000 throughout her first-year coverage and she's able to participate until the age of 75.

3 8 years later, Ameera was diagnosed with Stage 3 breast cancer. Undergoing treatments and medical procedures were tough for her physically and emotionally. However, she's grateful that a part of her medical bills can be paid with the RM100,000 payout from FWD Big 3 Critical Illness without having to burden her retired father. Her financial planning has helped to ease her burden today.

Here's How The Plan Works

Kamil (28) and Sal (25) are expecting their first child. Kamil is excited about the coming baby, but it has been a reality check for him. Will his savings be enough for the future of his wife and baby on the way, and emergencies as well? He's only just starting to come up the career ladder but already has others depending on him. He knows that the smart thing to do is to come out with a contingency plan.

1 In just a few clicks, Kamil has now participated in FWD Big 3 Critical Illness. He didn't have to take time off for a medical examination either, because all he had to do was to answer a few health questions.

2 As a newlywed with a baby on the way, Kamil's commitments are starting to grow. Luckily, the plan will only cost him RM19.48/month with a benefit of RM250,000 throughout his first-year coverage. He's also eligible to be covered until he's 75.

3 15 years later, Kamil had a heart attack and was hospitalised. It was a stressful time for the family as they were worried about his health. Thankfully, Kamil and his family could focus on his recovery instead of their expenses. With the RM250,000 payout, Kamil was able to cover part of his medical bills and living expenses for his dependents while he was recovering.
